Dividing the Domestic - Judith Treas 2010-02-25

In Dividing the Domestic, leading international scholars roll up their sleeves to investigate how culture and country characteristics permeate our households and our private lives. The book introduces novel frameworks for understanding why the household remains a bastion of traditional gender relations—even when employed full-time, women everywhere still do most of the work around the house, and poor women spend more time on housework than affluent women. Education systems, tax codes, labor laws, public policies, and cultural beliefs about motherhood and marriage all make a difference. Any accounting of "who does what" needs to consider the complicity of trade unions, state arrangements for children's schooling, and new cultural prescriptions for a happy marriage. With its cross-national perspective, this pioneering volume speaks not only to sociologists concerned with gender and family, but also to those interested in scholarship on states, public policy, culture, and social inequality.

The New Century Italian Renaissance Encyclopedia - Marvin B.. Becker 1972

Keeper of the Mountains - Bernadette McDonald 2012-10-15

Beginning in 1946, Elizabeth Hawley worked for Fortune magazine as a researcher. Shortly thereafter, she left both her job and the United States itself to travel the world, and thus began her lifelong attraction to the exotic and remote sovereign state of Nepal. In the years that followed, she began reporting on the political and cultural events taking place in her adopted homeland for the likes of Reuters and Time Inc., letting the world in on the strange community of mountaineers, pilgrims and politicians who were descending on Kathmandu, whether in search of adventure, enlightenment or prestige. Despite the fact that Elizabeth Hawley has never climbed a mountain or visited the hallowed grounds of Everest base camp, she has become the most important record keeper and inspirational authority figure regarding the expeditions, stories, feats, scandals and disasters in the Nepal Himalaya. Now 90 years of age, she has commanded the respect of such legendary personalities as Edmund Hillary, Reinhold Messner, Chris Bonington, Tomaš Humar and Ed Viesturs. With production under way on a film examining her life and legacy, it is likely that Hawley will continue to hold a special place in the hearts and minds of all visitors looking to experience the legend and grandeur of the world's most celebrated mountain landscape.

Jewish Travellers in the Middle Ages - Elkan Nathan Adler 1987-01-01

Rich in human experience and historic detail, these fascinating accounts portray the activities of Jewish scholars, merchants, pilgrims, ambassadors, and other wanderers. Nineteen engaging narratives, some of them 12 centuries old, offer rare perspectives on the unfolding drama of life in medieval Europe, the Near East, and Africa.

Delle lettere americane. By Gian Rinaldo Carli - 1783

My Bibi Always Remembers - Toni Buzzeo 2016-08-04

Little Tembo, a baby elephant, is thirsty and her herd cannot find any water. But Bibi, the matriarch, "remembers the way to wet." As Bibi leads them across the parched savannah, Tembo happily follows, every now and then getting distracted by her own memories of games she loves to play.

With touching family moments interspersed between Tembo's playful actions, this tribute to grandmothers will make a perfect read-aloud. Praise for Stay Close to Mama "Readers and their parents will instantly see themselves in this loving but ongoing conflict over the need to explore and the need to protect, and they'll undoubtedly find the two characters adorable and reassuring."

Electromagnetic Fields - Alan M. Portis 1978

How is Your MPA Doing? - Robert S. Pomeroy 2004

First two editions have sold extraordinarily well. Italian is the fourth most popular language in the United States.

The Seduction of the Occult and the Rise of the Fantastic Tale - Dorothea E. von Mücke 2003

This book examines the early development of the fantastic tale through the works of of the German romantics Ludwig Tieck, Achim von Arnim, and E. T. A. Hoffmann; the subsequent French rediscovery of the genre in works by Théophile Gautier and Prosper Mérimée; and Edgar Allan Poe's contributions to the literary form.

Return to Earth - Buzz Aldrin 2015-12-15

Apollo 11 astronaut Buzz Aldrin's courageous, candid memoir of his return to Earth after the historic moon landing and his personal struggle with fame and depression. "We landed with all the grace of a freight elevator," Buzz Aldrin relates in the opening passages of Return to Earth, remembering Command Module Columbia's abrupt descent into the gravity of the blue planet. With that splash, Aldrin takes readers on a journey through the human side of the space program, as one of the first two men to land on the moon learns to cope with the pressures of his new public persona. In honest and compelling prose, Aldrin reveals a side of instant fame for which West Point and NASA could never have prepared him. One day a fighter pilot and engineer, the next a cultural hero burdened with the adoration of thousands, Aldrin gives a poignant account of the affair that threatened his marriage, as well as his descent into alcoholism and depression that resulted from trying to be too many things to too many people. He didn't realize that when he landed on his home planet his odyssey had just begun. As Aldrin puts it, "I traveled to the moon, but the most significant voyage of my life began when I returned from where no man had been before." Return to Earth is a powerful and moving memoir that exposes the stresses suffered by those in the Apollo program and the price Buzz Aldrin paid when he became an American icon.

The Eruption of Krakatoa - Royal Society (Great Britain). Krakatoa Committee 1888

Blank on the Map - Eric Shipton 2014-12-17

'As I studied the maps, one thing about them captured my imagination ... Across this blank space was written one challenging word, "Unexplored" In 1937 two of the twentieth century's greatest explorers set off to explore an unknown area of the Himalaya, the breath-taking Shaksgam mountains. With a team of surveyors and Sherpas, Eric Shipton and H.W. Tilman located and mapped the land around K2, the second-highest mountain in the world. It was their greatest venture, and one that paved the way for all future mountaineering in that area of the Himalaya. For Shipton and Tilman, exploration was everything, with a summit a welcome bonus, and Blank on the Map is the book that best captures their spirit of adventure. With an observant eye and keen sense of humour, Shipton tells how the expedition entered the unknown Shaksgam mountains, crossing impenetrable gorges, huge rivers and endless snow fields. There's a very human element to in Shipton's dealings with his Sherpa friends, and with his Balti porters, some of whom were helpful, while some were less so.

The expedition uncovers traces of ancient cultures and visits vibrant modern civilisations living during the last days of the British Empire. Only when all supplies are exhausted, their clothes in tatters and all equipment lost do the men finally return home. A mountain exploration classic.

The Rotters' Club - Jonathan Coe 2007-12-18

Birmingham, England, c. 1973: industrial strikes, bad pop music, corrosive class warfare, adolescent angst, IRA bombings. Four friends: a class clown who stoops very low for a laugh; a confused artist enthralled by guitar rock; an earnest radical with socialist leanings; and a quiet dreamer obsessed with poetry, God, and the prettiest girl in school. As the world appears to self-destruct around them, they hold together to navigate the choppy waters of a decidedly ambiguous decade.

Narrative of Voyages to Explore the Shores of Africa, Arabia and Madagascar - William Fitzwilliam Wentworth Owen 1833

Diario di viaggio in Madagascar - Jenny Vavassori 2017-11-14

Narrativa - romanzo breve (65 pagine) - La natura selvatica e il popolo del Madagascar, gli imprevisti e le scene dei villaggi. Tutto è custodito in questo diario che diventa un autentico scrigno di emozioni. Giunti nell'isola rossa, i protagonisti di questo viaggio vengono catapultati in un mondo sorprendente e inaspettato. Ammaliati come da un esotico incantesimo, le loro avventure prendono vita attraverso distese di aridi deserti abitati da baobab centenari, montagne sacre, fitte foreste dimore dei lemuri, acque cristalline in cui nuotare con enormi tartarughe e, non meno importante, il popolo malgascio, gente appartenente a una meravigliosa cultura da tramandare. Per l'autrice, questo diario non vuole essere solo un resoconto di una vacanza ma anche un piccolo studio personale di un Paese in cui ancora oggi esistono delle tribù differenti con propri riti, credenze, modi di vivere e in cui convivono quei misteriosi animali autoctoni che sono i lemuri. Qualsiasi persona curiosa non può rinunciare a leggere la descrizione del Famadihana, il rito di riesumazione dei morti della tribù dei Bara, o del meraviglioso vocabolario usato dai lemuri per comunicare, composto da acuti suoni udibili a chilometri di distanza, che vanno dai lamentosi mugolii a veri e propri ringhi selvatici. Jenny Vavassori nasce il 29 marzo 1980 in un tranquillo paesino a metà strada tra Como e Milano. Vive alle porte del parco delle Groane nella stessa casa in cui è nata e cresciuta. "Il bosco è la mia medicina", risponde a chi le chiede come faccia a lavorare tutti giorni nella caotica Milano, e in quel bosco, in cui è solita rifugiarsi, ha maturato il suo grande amore per la natura e gli animali. Ogni volta che ne ha l'opportunità parte alla scoperta di nuove culture senza mai dimenticare il suo compagno di viaggio preferito: un quaderno bianco su cui annotare le sue avventure. Per Versante est ha già pubblicato l'ebook Diario di viaggio in Sud Africa.

After Heritage - Hamzah Muzaini 2018-07-27

Focusing on the practices and politics of heritage-making at the individual and the local level, this book uses a wide array of international case studies to argue for their potential not only to disrupt but also to complement formal heritage-making in public spaces. Providing a much-needed clarion call to reinsert the individual as well as the transient into more collective heritage processes and practices, this strong contribution to the field of Critical Heritage Studies offers insight into benefits of the 'heritage from below approach' for researchers, policy makers and practitioners.

Pereira Maintains - Antonio Tabucchi 2017-02-28

Tabucchi's masterpiece "conjures a state between waking and dreaming" (The New York Times) Dr. Pereira is an aging, lonely, overweight journalist who has failed to notice the menacing cloud of fascism over Salazarist Lisbon. One day he meets Montiero Rossi, an aspiring young writer whose anti-fascist fervor is as strong as Pereira's apolitical languor. Eventually, breaking out of the shell of his own inhibitions, Pereira reluctantly rises to heroism—and this arc is “one of the most intriguing and appealing character studies in recent European fiction” (Kirkus).
