Women and the Second World War in France, 1939-48 - Hanna Diamond 1999

Hanna Diamond presents varied testimony to reveal the realities of women's daily lives and the role they played in both collaboration and resistance. She considers the political choices they had to make and the constraints they were under.

De la vanidad - Michel Eyquen de Montaigne

"He envejecido mucho desde mis primeras publicaciones, que tuvieron lugar en el año 1580. Pero dudo que me haya vuelto una pulgada más sabio. Yo entonces y yo ahora somos por cierto dos: cuál es mejor no puedo decirlo. Sería bonito ser viejo si uno no se encaminara a otra cosa que al mejoramiento. Es un titubeante andar de borracho, vertiginoso, informe, o de juncos que el aire maneja azarosamente según los designios de la brisa." Todo es relativo. Ésa es la gran lección que sobrevuela este texto, extraído del libro III de los Ensayos de Montaigne. Pilar de un auténtico monumento literario, De la vanidad nos acerca una propuesta esencial: conservar el espíritu crítico, pues ningún conocimiento es absoluto. En un siglo en el cual reinan las guerras de religión, la miseria y la vanidad, Montaigne reclama el derecho a dudar, para defender el eclecticismo y la tolerancia. Michel Eyquem de Montaigne (1533-1592) fue uno de los escritores más influyentes del Renacimiento francés. En sus escritos demuestra una asombrosa habilidad para mezclar la especulación teórica más rigurosa con anécdotas casuales y autobiográficas. Buena parte de la literatura moderna de no ficción debe su génesis a Montaigne, quien dejó su huella en autores como Shakespeare, Rousseau y Nietzsche.

Sadhana - Anthony De Mello 1984-09-01

Christian Exercises in Eastern Form Truly a one-of-a-kind, how-to-do-it book, this small volume responds to a very real hunger for self-awareness and holistic living. It consists of a series of spiritual exercises for entering the contemplative state -- blending psychology, spiritual therapy, and practices from both Eastern and Western traditions. Anthony de Mello offers here an unparalleled approach to inner peace that brings the whole person to prayer -- body and soul, heart and mind, memory and imagination. In forty-seven exercises that teach things such as awareness of physical sensations, stillness, healing of hurtful memories, and consciousness of self and world, de Mello succeeds in helping all who have ever experienced prayer as difficult, dull, or frustrating. The essential key, he notes, is to journey beyond mere thought-forms and discover satisfying new depths in prayer from the heart. This allows for a greater sense of awareness amid silence, and disposes the one who prays to untold riches, spiritual fulfillment, and ultimately, a mystical experience of God-centeredness. Drawing on Scripture, as well as insights from Eastern and Western spiritual masters, the author has a unique appeal that transcends time, culture, and religious background. For many years a bestseller in the English language, Sadhana has now been translated into more than two dozen foreign languages. Readers the world over have eagerly received this sincere spiritual leader, who has led many toward the wealth of insight and spirit that dwells within them.

Free Spirit, Revised Edition - Reinhold Messner 2014-07-17

* A mountaineering classic re-released in the Legends and Lore series * Two new chapters In Free Spirit Reinhold Messner describes the forces and events that have shaped him as a climber as famous for his discipline as for his innovative spirit. Messner evolved his philosophy of the single free-climbing line with its uncompromising purity of style in the Dolomites and, as equipment and technique developed, he was in the forefront of the transference of fast lightweight alpine methods to the great ranges. Here, he takes us from the days of his first climb (at the age of five) with his father to his brother's tragic death on Nanga Parbat in 1970 to his later move away from the overcrowded Alps and 8000-meter peaks. He sought fulfillment, instead, in new challenges in lesser known parts of the world, such as crossing the expanse of Antarctica. Free Spirit is an exciting account of the career of a mountain pioneer. Pedalare! Pedalare! - John Foot 2011-05-03

The story of Italian cycling is the story of Italy in the twentieth century.

The Double Bond - Carole Angier 2002

Perhaps the most important writer to emerge from the death camps, Primo Levi is known for "Survival in Auschwitz, The Reawakening, " and the classic "The Periodic Table." Angier has spent nearly ten years writing this meticulously researched, vivid, and moving biography.

Birth and Death of the Housewife - Paola Masino 2010-07-02

First English translation of Paola Masino's Nascita e morte della massaia, her most controversial novel that provoked Fascist censorship for its critical portrayal of marriage and motherhood.

History of Modern Architecture - Leonardo Benevolo 1977

A serious and original study of the beginnings and development of modernism in which the pictorial aspects are designed to aid in the communication of the author's closely reasoned formulations. Let it be said at once that the format of this work is richly handsome: it is a two-volume boxed set comprising 844 pages and well over 1,000 high-quality illustrations, and it reflects throughout its publisher's conviction that good design is an essential, not superficial, part of bookmaking. Beyond that, it should be emphasized that this work is not another facile cultural tour of modern architecture. It is a serious and original study of the beginnings and development of modernism in which the pictorial aspects are designed to aid in the communication of the author's closely reasoned formulations, rather than to gloss over a lack of substantive content. The book is a translation of the third Italian edition, published in 1966. Benevolo, who is on the faculty of architecture in Venice, has earned an international reputation as a historian of architecture and town planning, and his publications embrace the span of time from the Renaissance to the foreseeable future. One such publication, The Origins of Modern Town Planning (The MIT Press, 1967), may be read as a prelude to the present work as well as an independent contribution. Perhaps more than any other architectural historian in our time, Benevolo has made a determined effort to place developments in design and planning in their proper social and political settings. Indeed, the author argues that the development of the modern movement in architecture was determined, not by aesthetic formalisms, but largely by the social changes that have occurred since about 1760: "After the middle of the eighteenth century, without the continuity of formal activity being in any way broken, indeed while architectural language seems to be acquiring a particular coherence, the relations between architect and society began to change radically.... New material and spiritual needs, new ideas and modes of procedure arise both within and beyond the traditional limits, and finally they run together to form a new architectural synthesis that is completely different from the old one. In this way it is possible to explain the birth of modern architecture, which otherwise would seem completely incomprehensible...." This second volume is concerned with the modern movement proper, from 1914 to 1966. The author emphasizes the unity of the movement, rejecting the usual treatment that allots to the individual architects separate and unconnected biographical accounts. Benevolo remarks at one point, "When one talks about modern architecture one must bear in mind the fact that it implies not only a new range of forms, but also a new way of thinking, whose consequences have not yet all been calculated." His main concern is to provide a more exact calculation of those consequences.

Elementare, Jung! - Psicoanalisi di Sherlock Holmes - Giuliano Spinelli 2016-11-22

ROMANZO BREVE (61 pagine) - GIALLO - Sherlock Holmes e Carl Gustav Jung: un'indagine di "psicoanalisi deduttiva" Zurigo, 1903: Sherlock Holmes, accompagnato dal Dottor Watson, si reca nella clinica psichiatrica del luogo a rendere l'estremo saluto all'anziana madre, internata da quasi quarant'anni, e sottoposta alle cure di un giovane Carl Gustav Jung. Di lei non si sa nulla, e il figlio appare indifferente e disinteressato al suo destino. Ma dallo storico incontro dei due grandi indagatori dell'animo emergerà una verità inconfessabile, in un'indagine di "psicoanalisi deduttiva" che risponderà a una lunga serie di inquietanti interrogativi sull'infanzia del celebre investigatore. E per il Dottor Watson si apriranno nuove, entusiasmanti prospettive professionali... Giuliano Spinelli è un diversamente giovane nato nel 1959, vive e lavora tra Seregno e Abbadia Lariana, ridente cittadina del lecchese adagiata sulle sponde del lago, e contornata dalle vette della Grigna. Studi liceali, seguiti da una specializzazione di tecnico colorista, attività che ha svolto per trentacinque anni con profitto. Sublimando le competenze acquisite, è recentemente approdato a un'attività artistica di pittura su vetro, esponendo le sue opere in varie mostre ed esposizioni private. Impegnato presso una cooperativa ONLUS, dove svolge attività di marketing e sensibilizzazione su riciclo e riuso, ha seguito in passato progetti di sviluppo in Brasile e Guinea Bissau. È da sempre operatore volontario nel settore, in un'azione concreta di critica a un modello consumistico, indirizzata verso un'ottica di minor impatto sociale. Divide il tempo tra le sue passioni di sempre, e cioè Sherlock Holmes, la fantascienza e la musica anni 60/70, eseguita alla chitarra - a suo dire - con passione e competenza.

Germania e Svizzera in bici - Tre racconti - Piero Lancia 2016-11-29
TRE RACCONTI (49 pagine) - NARRATIVA - I racconti di tre lunghi viaggi in bicicletta, attraverso la Germania, lungo il Danubio, il Reno e la Mosella, e sull'altopiano svizzero. Oltre 1500 chilometri totali, vissuti giorno per giorno. La scrittura di Piero Lancia segue il ritmo delle sue pedalate ed è sempre piacevole, autoironica e precisa. Senza mai sfociare nella retorica, l'autore racconta tre indimenticabili viaggi in bicicletta in Germania e in Svizzera, impreziosendo il tutto con mappe dei percorsi, fotografie e un'appendice in cui i lettori potranno trovare le informazioni utili per intraprendere gli stessi percorsi. I tre racconti, "Il Danubio tedesco, dalle sorgenti a Passau, Mosella. Un racconto a due voci" e "Il Mittelland svizzero, da San Carlo a Ginevra", rappresentano una nuova idea di letteratura di viaggio, dove la descrizione della fatica del percorso e della bellezza dei luoghi arrivano senza filtri, affidati a due punti di vista differenti, spesso opposti: quello dell'autore e quello di sua moglie. Piero Lancia accompagna i soci del CAI Frosinone in escursioni a piedi, in bici e con gli sci, occupandosi inoltre della biblioteca e delle attività culturali dell'associazione. Ha collaborato con le Edizioni Il Lupo e la Società Editrice Ricerche con racconti, itinerari e foto di montagna. Innamorato da quarant'anni della stessa donna e delle stesse montagne, ha provato a farle convivere con alterne fortune. Sono arrivati, poi, tre figli a rinverdire il rapporto tra montagna e famiglia. Molti viaggi in bicicletta con la moglie, attraverso l'Europa, li hanno uniti nel piacere di curiosare fuori di casa.

Obsolete Objects in the Literary Imagination - Francesco Orlando 2008-10-01

Translated here into English for the first time is a monumental work of literary history and criticism comparable in scope and achievement to Eric Auerbach's Mimesis. Italian critic Francesco Orlando explores Western literature's obsession with outmoded and nonfunctional objects (ruins, obsolete machinery, broken things, trash, etc.). Combining the insights of psychoanalysis and literary-political history, Orlando traces this obsession to a turning point in history, at the end of eighteenth-century industrialization, when the functional becomes the dominant value of Western culture. Roaming through every genre and much of the history of Western literature, the author identifies distinct categories into which obsolete images can be classified and provides myriad examples. The function of literature, he concludes, is to remind us of what we have lost and what we are losing as we rush toward the future.

De Lapidibus - Theophrastus 1965

The Periodic Table - Primo Levi 1996-10-01

The Periodic Table is largely a memoir of the years before and after Primo Levi's transportation from his native Italy to Auschwitz as an anti-Fascist partisan and a Jew. It recounts, in clear, precise, unflinching beautiful prose, the story of the Piedmontese Jewish community from which Levi came, of his years as a student and young chemist at the inception of the Second World War, and of his investigations into the nature of the material world. As such, it provides crucial links and backgrounds, both personal and intellectual, in the tremendous project of remembrance that is Levi's gift to posterity. But far from being a prologue to his experience of the Holocaust, Levi's masterpiece represents his most impassioned response to the events that engulfed him. The Periodic Table celebrates the pleasures of love and friendship and the search for meaning, and stands as a monument to those things in us that are capable of resisting and enduring in the face of tyranny.

Papaya Salad - Elisa Macellari 2020-11-03

The debut graphic novel from Thai-Italian illustrator Elisa Macellari, Papaya Salad tells the story of her great-uncle Sompong who found himself in Europe on military scholarship on the eve of World War II. A gentle and resolute man in love with books and languages, in search of his place in the world, Sompong chronicles his life during the war and falling for his wife, finding humor and joy even as the world changes irrevocably around him. This Winner of the 2019 Autori di Immagini Silver Medal in the Comics category tells the human story of the War, from a perspective not typically seen. "An historical and emotional journey through my family and my roots that are grown between Europe and Asia. A personal narrative that needs to be shared and hopefully arouses empathy in the reader." -- Elisa Macellari

The Homecoming Party - Carmine Abate 2010

It is Christmas Eve. Sitting on the steps of the village church, a father and son exchange stories. The father speaks of life as an emigrant from Italy, in perpetual limbo between his departure and return home. The son tells of an idyllic childhood spent in a vivid, enchanting land marred only by his father's long absences. Each hides an awful secret concerning the fate of a mysterious man whose affair with the boy's older sister changed their lives. On this night of nights, as the long-buried details seep through each man's story, a shared truth will finally emerge.

Lucretius: De Rerum Natura V - Monica R. Gale 2008-11-01

For a work written more than two thousand years ago, in a society in many ways quite alien to our own, Lucretius' De Rerum Natura contains much of striking, even startling, contemporary relevance.

The American Game - Lawrence Baldassarro 2002

These nine essays selected by Lawrence Baldassarro and Richard A. Johnson present for the first time in a single volume an ethnic and racial profile of American baseball. These essayists show how the gradual involvement by various ethnic and racial groups reflects the changing nature of baseball and of American society as a whole over the course of the twentieth century. Although the sport could not truly be called representative of America until after Jackie Robinson broke the color line in 1947, fascination with the ethnic backgrounds of the players began more than a century ago when athletes of German and Irish descent entered the major leagues in large numbers. In the 1920s, commentators noted the influx of ballplayers of Italian and Slavic origins and wondered why there were not more Jewish players in the big leagues. The era following World War II, however, saw the most dramatic ethnographic shift with the belated entry of African American ballplayers. The pattern of ethnic succession continues as players of Hispanic and Asian origin infuse fresh excitement and renewal into the major leagues. "

Collect the Wworld. the Artist As Archivist in the Internet Age - Domenico Quaranta 2011-10

The last decade has seen an incredible growth in the production and distribution of images and other cultural artefacts. The internet is the place where all these cultural products are stored, classified, voted, collected and trashed. What is the impact of this process on art making and on the artist? Which kind of dialogue is going on between amateur practices and codified languages? How does art respond to the society of information? This is a book about endless archives, image collections, bees plundering from flower to flower and hunters crawling through the online wilderness. Alterazioni Video, Kari Altmann, Cory Arcangel, Gazira Babeli, Kevin Bewersdorf, Luca Bolognesi, Natalie Bookchin, Petra Cortright, Aleksandra Domanovic, Harm van den Dorpel, Constant Dullaart, Hans-Peter Feldmann, Elisa Giardina Papa, Travis Hallenbeck, Jodi, Oliver Laric, Olia Lialina & Dragan Espenshied, Guthrie Lonergan, Eva and Franco Mattes, Seth Price, Jon Rafman, Claudia Rossini, Evan Roth, Travess Smalley, Ryan Trecartin.

The Ice Palace - Tarjei Vesaas 2009-05-01

A new edition of what is commonly seen as the legendary Norwegian writer's masterpiece, this story tells the tale of Siss and Unn, two friends who have only spent one evening in each other's company. But so profound is this evening between them that when Unn inexplicably disappears, Siss's world is shattered. Siss's struggle with her fidelity to the memory of her friend and Unn's fatal exploration of the strange, terrifyingly beautiful frozen waterfall that is the Ice Palace are described in prose of a lyrical economy that ranks among the most memorable achievements of modern literature.

Telephone Tales - Gianni Rodari 2020-09-08

Reminiscent of Scheherazade and One Thousand and One Nights, Gianni Rodari's Telephone Tales is many stories within a story. Every night, a traveling father must finish a bedtime story in the time that a single coin will buy. One night, it's a carousel that adults cannot comprehend, but whose operator must be some sort of magician, the next, it's a land filled with butter men who melt in the sunshine Awarded the Hans Christian Anderson Award in 1970, Gianni Rodari is widely considered to be Italy's most important children's author of the 20th century. Newly re-illustrated by Italian artist Valerio Vidali (The Forest), Telephone Tales entertains, while questioning and imagining other worlds.

The Forests of Norbio - Giuseppe Dessì 1975

One and Seven - Gianni Rodari 2003

One child is portrayed as seven children from all parts of the world. Although each child is different they all laugh in the same language. The story unifies all the children in the end into one man and because of that they can no longer declare war against one another. Essentially, a story of peace.

Tristano - Nanni Balestrini 2014-02-11

This book is unique as no other novel can claim to be: one of 109,027,350,432,000 possible variations of the same work of fiction. Inspired by the legend of Tristan and Isolde, Tristano was first published in 1966 in Italian. But only recently has digital technology made it possible to realise the author's original vision. The novel comprises ten chapters, and the fifteen pairs of paragraphs in each of these are shuffled anew for each published copy. No two versions are the same. The random variations between copies enact the variegations of the human heart, as exemplified by the lovers at the centre of the story. The copies of the English translation of Tristano are individually numbered, starting from 10,000 (running sequentially from the Italian and German editions). Included is a foreword by Umberto Eco explaining how Balestrini's experiment with the physical medium of the novel demonstrates 'that originality and creativity are nothing more than the chance handling of a combination'.

Immigrants in the Lands of Promise - Samuel L. Baily 2016-11-15

Most studies of immigration to the New World have focused on the United States. Samuel L. Baily's eagerly awaited book broadens that perspective through a comparative analysis of Italian immigrants to Buenos Aires and New York City before World War I. It is one of the few works to trace Italians from their villages of origin to different destinations abroad. Baily examines the adjustment of Italians in the two cities, comparing such factors as employment opportunities, skill levels, pace of migration, degree of prejudice, and development of the Italian community. Of the two destinations, Buenos Aires offered Italians more extensive opportunities, and those who elected to move there tended to have the appropriate education or training to succeed. These immigrants, who adjusted more rapidly than their North American counterparts, adopted a long-term strategy of investing savings in their New World home. In New York, in contrast, the immigrants found fewer skilled and white-collar jobs, more competition from previous immigrant groups, greater discrimination, and a less supportive Italian enclave. As a result, rather than put down roots, many sought to earn money as rapidly as possible and send their earnings back to family in Italy. Baily views the migration process as a global phenomenon. Building on his richly documented case studies, the author briefly examines Italian communities in San Francisco, Toronto, and Sao Paulo. He establishes a continuum of immigrant adjustment in urban settings, creating a landmark study in both immigration and comparative history.

A Winter Walk - Henry David Thoreau 2018-07

A Winter Walk Henry David Thoreau New England transcendentalist Henry David Thoreau's 1843 essay "A Winter Walk" is a loving celebration of winter and walking. Thoreau vividly renders the winter season, writing of its sparkling beauty, its purity, and its stillness, and perfectly describing the warmth, coziness, and cheer to be found back at the home hearth. This short work is part of Applewood's "American Roots," series, tactile mementos of American passions by some of America's most famous writers. We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection. Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades, and therefore have not been accessible to the general public. The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature, and our view is that this is a significant literary work, which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades. The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works. To ensure a high quality product, each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff. Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work. We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work, and that for you it becomes an enriching experience.

Divorce Islamic Style - Amara Lakhous 2012-03-27

Secret identities, criminal conspiracies, and forbidden love converge in this "whimsical and at times heartbreaking look" at the Muslim communities of Rome (The New York Times). The Italian secret service believes that a group of Muslim immigrants is planning a terrorist attack. Christian Mazzari, a young Sicilian translator who speaks perfect Arabic, goes undercover in Rome's Egyptian neighborhood, Viale Marconi, to infiltrate the group. Posing as a recently arrived Tunisian in search of a job and a place to sleep, Christian soon meets Sofia, a young Egyptian immigrant whose arranged marriage is anything but fulfilling. While Christian attempts in vain to uncover terrorist activity, Sofia is on another kind of secret mission—in defiance of a husband who forbids her to work. In alternating voices, Algerian-born Italian author Amara Lakhous examines the commonplaces and stereotypes of life in modern, multicultural Italy. Divorce Islamic Style mixes the rational and the absurd as it depicts the conflicts and contradictions of today's globalized world.

The Mobility of Labor and Capital - Saskia Sassen 1990-06-29

In this empirical study, Saskia Sassen offers a fresh understanding of the processes of international migration. Focusing on immigration into the US from 1960 to 1985 and the part played by American economic activities abroad, as well as foreign investment in the US, she examines the various ways in which the internationalization of production contributes to the formation and direction of labor migration.

In Praise of the Bicycle - Marc Augé 2019-08-15

Witness the French anthropologist as we have never seen him before. Marc Augé coined the term "non-place" to describe the ubiquitous airports, hotels, and motorways filled with anonymous individuals. In this new book, he casts his anthropologist's eye on a subject close to his heart: cycling. With In Praise of the Bicycle, Augé takes us on a two-wheeled ride around our cities and on a personal journey into ourselves. We all remember the thrill of riding a bike for the first time and the joys of cycling. Here he reminds us that these memories are not just personal, but rooted in a time and a place, in a history that is shared with millions of others. Part memoir, part manifesto, Augé's book celebrates cycling as a way of reconnecting with the places in which we live, and, ultimately, as a necessary alternative to our disconnected world.

A History of Colors - Manlio Brusatin 1991

Compasito - Nancy Flowers 2007-01-01

Living among other people, in their families and communities, children become aware from a very early age of questions related to justice, and they search for the meaning of the world. By fostering an understanding of human rights, shaping opinion and developing attitudes, human rights education strongly supports this natural interest and learning process. This is what human rights education is about and this is what 'Compasito manual on human rights education for children' is for. 'Compasito' is a starting point for educators, teachers and trainers who are ready to deal with human rights education with children of 7-13 years. The book covers the key concepts of human rights and children's rights, and provides substantial theoretical background to 13 key human rights issues, such as democracy, citizenship, gender equality, environment, media, poverty, and violence. The 42 practical activities serve to engage and motivate children to recognise human rights issues in their own environment. They help children to develop critical thinking, responsibility and a sense of justice, and help them learn how to take action to contribute to the betterment of their school or community. The manual also gives practical tips on how it can be used in various formal and non-formal educational settings.

Igor Ponti - Igor Ponti 2014

What is typically Swiss? What characterizes the country and its people, and connects the various regions despite their different languages? These questions led Swiss photographer Igor Ponti (born 1981) on a journey across the country, at once mockingly and affectionately depicting distinctions and connections between regions.
